Bay kids make an impression

LAST Wednesday, my wife and I were coming to the end of a holiday in Narooma, staying at the Island View Holiday Park.

We came back from our beach walk to find some 65 students from Year Five at Batemans Bay Primary School had arrived.

We would like to pass our compliments on to the teachers, the principal Tom Purcell and especially the students. The children were well behaved and polite; it was a pleasure to chat with them. We were later asked to be guest judges at their talent quest – a task we thoroughly enjoyed.
